- Location-Based Services: We use location information to route wireless communications and to provide 911 service, which allows emergency services to locate your general location. We may disclose, without your consent, the approximate location of a wireless device to a governmental entity or law enforcement authority when we are served with lawful process or reasonably believe there is an emergency involving risk of death or serious physical harm. Depending on your device, you may also be able to obtain a wide array of services based on the location of your device (for example, driving directions, enhanced 411 Directory Assistance or search results, etc.). These data services, known as location-based services ("LBS") are made available by us and other entities, usually via applications. These applications and services use various location technologies (including Global Positioning Satellite ("GPS"), Assisted GPS ("AGPS"), cell ID and enhanced cell ID technologies) to identify the approximate location of a device, which is then used in conjunction with the application to enhance the user's experience (for example, to provide driving directions, to provide enhanced 411 Directory Assistance or search results, etc.). LBS may, or may not, involve any interaction with or dependency on our supplier's network, and LBS may or may not look to our network to obtain location data. Where our network supplier allows third parties the capability of accessing data about your location that is derived from our supplier's network, our network supplier requires those third parties to observe specific privacy and security protections. It is important that you understand the location capabilities and settings of your device, and that you carefully read and understand the terms under which these services are provided – whether by us or another entity. You should carefully review the privacy policies and other terms of third parties with whom you have authorized the sharing of your location information, and you should consider the risks involved in disclosing your location information to other people. Where we provide a location-based service, you will receive notice of the location features of the service and collection of location data is with your consent. You will be provided options for managing when and how such information should be shared.

4. CPNI

In the course of providing Services to you, we may collect and maintain certain information about the telecommunications services you buy from us and how you use them. This information is categorized by the federal government as Customer Proprietary Network Information ("CPNI"). CPNI includes the types of services you currently purchase, calling records, and related usage and billing information. Your telephone number, name, and address are not CPNI. We value our relationship with you and are committed to respecting and protecting your CPNI. Accordingly, we do not sell, trade, or share your CPNI except to affiliate companies and companies authorized to offer our products or services or to perform functions on our behalf, unless authorized by you or required by law.

Generally, we can use your CPNI to offer additional communications services to you, and for billing and collections purposes. We can also disclose your CPNI for legal or regulatory reasons, including in response to subpoenas and court orders. We can also use CPNI to investigate crime or fraud, and to prevent or remedy violations of our Terms and Conditions of Use, unlawful use of our network or services, or violations of the rights of our other customers. Your use of the Site or the Services indicates that we have your approval to provide your CPNI to our affiliated companies unless you tell us not to do so within thirty (30) days of your initial use of the Site or the Services. Such approval can be revoked at any time, and revoking your approval will not affect our provision of Services to you in any way. To provide notice that you decline to have your CPNI shared with affiliated companies, please e-mail us at PersonalData@myMobileX.com. Please be aware that we will process your request as quickly as we reasonably can, but it may not be possible to update our systems immediately.

However, in the event of our bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, or assignment for the benefit of creditors, we may not be able to control how your Personal Information is treated, transferred, or used and your Personal Information may be included in any transferred assets.

For more information about how to opt out of having your information used by Google Analytics, visit <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout/>.
